DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

The amendment filed 31 August 2009 was carefully considered and found to introduce issues as addressed below. The Applicant is invited to telephone the Examiner to clarify any questions regarding this Office Action.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 13, 14, 15, 17, 18, 27 and 28 are, drawn to a electronically operated device that compares recognized voice information against said stored contact information and controls automatically placing a call based on the stored contact information, classified in class first electronically device that compares, classified in class 455, subclass 414.1.
- II. Claims 19, 20, 21, 23, 24, 25, 26, 29 and 30, drawn to a connection operative to allow data received from a microphone to be sent from a first electronic device to a computer for processing said data, to produce voice recognized text and return the voice recognized text from the computer to the first electronic device class 455, subclass 414.4.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are directed to related products. The related inventions are distinct if: (1) the inventions as claimed are either not capable of use together or can have a materially different design, mode of operation, function, or effect; (2) the inventions do not overlap in scope, i.e., are mutually exclusive; and (3) the inventions as claimed are not obvious variants. See MPEP § 806.05(j). In the instant case, the inventions as claimed have a materially different function. The first group pertains to an electronic device capable of recognizing recognized voice information and controls automatically placing a call based on the stored contact information whereas the second group utilizes a remote computer to process and return voice recognized text data to a first electronic device that collected the voice data. Furthermore, the inventions as claimed do not encompass overlapping subject matter and there is nothing of record to show them to be obvious variants.

Restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper because all these inventions listed in this action are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious search and examination burden if restriction were not required because one or more of the following reasons apply:

- (a) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification;
- (b) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter;
- (c) the inventions require a different field of search (for example, searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries);

(d) the prior art applicable to one invention would not likely be applicable to another invention;

(e) the inventions are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention.

If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Claim Objections

Claim 27 is objected to because of the following informalities: the claim includes "comprising a second computer" where a first or any computer is not identified in claims 27 or 13. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 20 recites the limitation "said first computer" where independent claim 19 identifies "a computer", not a "first computer". There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claims 19-21, 23-26, 29 and 30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The amendment to independent claims 19 and 24 introduce "said connection capability parts include parts that allow making a Bluetooth connection to a locally located device" where the identification of "a locally located device" is not clear from the Disclosure. The claims initially identify "said first electronic device (or remote part) and said computer having connection capability parts that allow forming a connection between said first electronic device and said computer" where the integration of the "locally located device" would conflict with the "computer" or it is the "computer".

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
